

Wireless Freedom for the Office

If you're like most executives, everything about the way you work has changed. Except your phone. The GN 9120 turns your phone into a full-featured wireless productivity tool, one that allows you to keep pace with your dynamic working environment. Now you can roam 300 feet from your desk, giving you the freedom to think on your feet, multi-task, and interact with everyone around you without missing important calls. And, its battery will give you up to eight hours talk time, so you can talk all day long.
